The C100 is dedicated to balancing the ever-changing needs of a growing city and the District's role as the Nation's Capital. Part of this responsibility is to ensure that the ways in which we commemorate or memorialize our past are truthful and respectful; and do not harm, intimidate or marginalize any segment of society or glorify past injustice. We welcome the opportunity for thoughtful dialogue, open and inclusive processes and informed scholarship to ensure that our public symbols celebrate our shared values and honestly represent our history.
